Player: yes
An Old Dragonlord: How kind of you, young human. I'm old, you see. When a dragon ages such as I have, their scales aren't as limber as they used to be and our arthritis flares up. Please let me know if you're still interested in helping...
Player: interested
An Old Dragonlord: Would you be willing to hunt dragons, dragon lords, or undead dragons to find a flexible scale and bring it to me?
Player: yes
An Old Dragonlord: Excellent! It's hard to find a young dragon that is spry enough to have flexible scales. Once you have found the perfect dragon, you'll receive a message from me. Then you'll have to loot the scale and return to me. Remember, the scale is inside its body!

Now you need get him flexible scale that will drop from dragons, dragon lords or undead dragons.

when you get it go back to NPC and report it
